

The Garden Project

The Archimedia team cleared a hidden and completely overgrown garden at Leinster House and planned a quiet garden space. The aim was to explore design ideas and to learn to work to a budget. Buildings don't come cheap and the group were able to understand where all the costs are by working on their own design and build project. Phil Clapp from the DCMS came to view progress.

